

Librería
Bonilla y Asociados
desde 1950

Título: Between Cosmopolitan Ideals And State Sovereignty.
Studies In Global Justice

Autor: Tinnevelt Ronald/ Verschraegen Gert

Precio: $1074.00

Editorial:

Año: 2006

Tema:

Edición: 1ª

Sinopsis

ISBN: 9781403939913

Over the last few decades national boundaries have become less and less important, while universal norms and ideals have gained in strength. Between Cosmopolitan Ideals and State Sovereignty examines how principles of justice, democracy and human rights should be reframed in the light of the challenges posed by globalization. It brings together leading academics in the fields of political philosophy, law and social science to discuss crucial ethical issues such as whether human rights and sovereignty can ever be reconciled; how just political institutions in a world without boundaries can be developed; and whether liberal pluralism can be exported. It offers a comprehensive overview of essential aspects of the debate on global justice.

Introduction; R.Tinnevelt & G.Verschraegen

PART 1: DISTRIBUTIVE JUSTICE

Global Distributive Justice; C.Jones

States, Individuals, and Equality; L.Wenar

Do Rich Countries have a Negative Duty to Fight Global Poverty?; R.van der Veen

Global Distributive Justice and the Environment; S.Caney

Justice for Africa; R.E.Howard-Hassmann

PART 2: CULTURAL DIVERSITY AND LIBERALISM

Liberalism and Cultural Diversity: Some Challenges; K-C.Tan

Liberal Contribution to a Universal Ethic; B.Parekh

The Liberal Concept of Political Secularism; H.Bielefeldt

Rights of Culture, Rights of Conscience; C.Kukathas

Emergent Cosmopolitanism. Indigenous Peoples and International Law; D.Ivison

PART 3: SOVEREIGNTY, HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEMOCRACY

Human Rights Protection in a World of Sovereign States; R.H.Jackson

Human Rights, Justice and Anarchy in International Relations; M.Frost

Human Rights as Global Participatory Entitlements; R.Marchetti

Protecting Human Rights: Transnational Governance or World State?; R.Tinnevelt &

Teléfonos: 55 44 73 40 y 55 44 72 91

www.libreriabonilla.com.mx

Librería
Bonilla y Asociados
desde 1950

G.Verschraegen

How Much Democracy does Global Constitutionalism Need?; H.Brunckhorst

PART 4: ETHICAL FOREIGN POLICY AND THE LEGITIMACY OF HUMANITARIAN INTERVENTION

Perspectives on Global Justice: Norms, Structures, Processes and Context; R.Falk

Good International Citizenship; B.Orend

The Moral Basis of Humanitarian Intervention; F.R.Tesón

Foreign Policy, Human Rights, and 'Preventive Non-Intervention'; D.K.Chatterjee

Problems of Terrorism and Counter-Terrorism; C.A.J.Coady

RONALD TINNEVELT is a postdoctoral fellow of the Research Foundation Flanders. He is affiliated to the Institute of Philosophy at the University of Leuven, Belgium and is involved in the IAP research project 'Theory of the Norm and Democratic Governance'. His main research interests include human rights, democracy, sovereignty and justice. He is co-editor of John Rawls (2002), De multiculturele samenleving in conflict (2005) and Internationale Rechtvaardigheid (2005).

GERT VERSCHRAEGEN is a postdoctoral fellow of the Research Foundation Flanders and is affiliated to the Department of Sociology at the University of Leuven, Belgium. His research interests include political theory, theoretical sociology and social policy. He is co-editor of John Rawls (2002), De verleiding van de Ethiek (2003), Internationale Rechtvaardigheid (2005), and co-author of Enabling Social Europe (2005).