We are proud to introduce Azzedine Alaia as part of the elite group of LE BOOK cover designers. Our 2007 editions will feature various images of Alaia's work photographed by Jean-Paul Goude and selected by the designer. We hope you find the newest LE BOOK even more useful, more enjoyable, and more inspiring than ever.

LE BOOK is certainly proud of our past, and we continue to expand the remarkable image quality and range of categories that fill what we view as the company core product: our indispensable annual reference guide. But the next chapter of the company's history has begun, and we are very excited about this new development
