"In today's global economy fueled by an ever increasing reliance on changing technology, it is imperative that the Education Administrator have a roadmap for success...this book does exactly that...Highly recommended reading for anyone looking for a clear roadmap for performance excellence over time. As the book states, "Continuous improvement methods add value to higher education institutions through the formation of a systematic approach to managing the institution." There really isn't a better way to say that this book needs to be on every administrators book shelf!" - Frank K. Toda, President and CEO Columbia Gorge Community College
