Sinopsis

ISBN: 9781568984742

Noting the lack of a comprehensive reference and resource guide for architects, contractors, interior designers, and others involved in aspects of the built environment, Felder has compiled this first annual desk reference and resource guide. This weighty volume lists and briefly describes awards, competitions, design centers, educational facilities, events, media, museums, organizations, trade shows, and manufacturers. Entries are cataloged by name, type, and location, and include web pages and other contact information. While the cover of the book lists all the categories contained within, there is no table of contents inside.
