Sinopsis

ISBN: 9780316177184

Following on the great success of her first four bilingual board books, Rebecca Emberley has created another set of brightly colored board books that toddlers and their parents will adore. The subject of each book appeals directly to a child's experience of the everyday world: clothes, food, animals, and toys. It is never too early to begin to learn another language and these four stylish books will help the youngest English and Spanish speakers prepare for the multilingual society in which they will live.
