

Librería
Bonilla y Asociados
desde 1950

Título: Ecoturism And Sustainable Development. Who Owns Paradise?

Autor: Honey, Martha

Precio: $455.00

Editorial:

Año: 2008

Tema:

Edición: 2ª

Sinopsis

ISBN: 9781597261265

Ecoturism and Sustainable Development is the most comprehensive overview of worldwide ecoturism available today, showing how both the concept and the reality have evolved over more than twenty-five years. Here Martha Honey revisits six nations she profiled in the first edition—the Galapagos Islands, Costa Rica, Tanzania, Zanzibar, Kenya, and South Africa—and adds a fascinating new chapter on the United States. She examines the growth of ecoturism within each country's tourism strategy, its political system, and its changing economic policies. Her useful case studies highlight the economic and cultural impacts of expanding tourism on indigenous populations as well as on ecosystems.

About the Author

Martha Honey is codirector of the Center on Ecoturism and Sustainable Development and editor of Ecoturism and Certification: Setting Standards in Practice (Island Press, 2002). Previously she worked as a freelance journalist in Latin America and Africa for The Washington Post, The New York Times, the Associated Press, ABC-TV, and the BBC. She has received numerous awards for her investigative journalism.